in the night after the battle, I had tried, with the assis-ance of my indefatigable steward. Mr. Wild, to reach the battle field of our first position with some brancard bearers, but by a facce fire the rebeis compelled us to retire. I am sorry to say that I was not allowed to stay in the hospital to narse the wounded, as a renewal of the straggle was momentarily expected, and I had to return to the regiment; but I hope that the medical director ordered a sufficient number of surgeons, to proceed to the hospital.

The losses of our brigsde are coormons; shout $900 dead and wounded in fofer regiments, the 17 h Kentucky had to stand guard over the ammunition, and was not in the dre. In consequence of the fatiguing march from Nashvihe to Louisville, a great number of our men had to remain in the hospitals at Bowling Green and Louisville, so that we numbered at the highest 350 beyonets. Col. Minaloty, also, we had to leave severely sick at the latter piace; also, Lieuts. Schwelinder, the other and Fall. As we had no field officers, the three oldest captains (Maufi, Gunther and Harmann) had to act as such, and in reality the ten companies only had seven commissioned officers are filled at last. We have lost twenty-four dead, seven y-six wounded and four missing. The number of the eastway for differs are filled at last.

Today our two divisions marched over the field where the center of the enemy were still higher than ours. THE BATTLE AT CORINTS. EXTRACTS:

THE BATTLE AT CORINGE.

[Prom the Richmond Dispatch, Oct. 9]
It will be seen, by the telegraphic dispatch in snother column, that after his discound une on Friday, the enemy, largely reinforced, renewed the engagement at Corinth on Saturkey, and that after a furious engagement, insting throughout Saturday and Sunday, General Van Dorn was friend to retreat, with heavy los. This news is the more painful that we had been led to anticipate a complete victory, at Corinto; but it should by no mean discounage us. We have of late had a succession of good fortune almost unprecedented, and we carnot expect, in such a war as this, to be a lawly a victorious. There is no canise even for despondency, lar less despair. The army, we are told, is eafe, and that is some comfort, though we had much rather have heard tax it was victorious. cop. Chas. From the Richmond Whig?

The telegram which reached us yesterd y leaves no doubt that the conflict at Corinch was obe inste and bloody. Nor, unkepyity, does it leave room for doubt that our toress were defeated—badly defeated—and driven back many miles from the field of battle. If the reporter has not exaggreated the facts, our leases must have been terrific. Divisious appear to have been reduced to brigades, and brigades to regioents. Several distinguished officers were killed; others wounded. No estimate is given of the sectual loss on either side; but there seems little reason to doubt that, while ours was very heavy, the obstinacy with which the battle was fought, and the steady valor of our men, must have entailed a serious less upon the enemy. If, as we believe, our men fought with courage against I have strendy told you that syron G. Stout is a resident of Oskland county, and a chronic effice hunter, having had his hat out begging for whatever crumbs his party might throw into it. I believe he is a native of New York, but he has resided here several years. In 1856 ieve, our men fought with courage against a position which he filled with comparative ability. What little ability he possessed seems all to run that way. But the unexpected eleoverwhelming numbers, we have the consola-tion of knowing that their failure is not at-tended with disgrace.

What results are to flow from this untoward is plain, however, that the immediate object of our movement has falled; and that the pan of our campaign in the Mississippi has been seriously disturbed. Energy, courage and skill may repair our losses, and atons for our defeat; but we cannot disquise the fact that we have received a very embarrasing and annoying check. We sincerely hope that now, more than ever, the government and its squits will exhibit alserthy and energy in their edorts to increase our forces, and sugment the effectiveness of our armies. His speech on the occasion was prouted with delight by the secessionists. From that day he has been numbered amongst the present the properture of the consideration of the sense has been put by the thinble-rigging Unionists, and their now outspoken secosion allies. But Stout's new-born zeal for slavery is not his only merit in the eyes of his tory supporters. Like all admirers of slavery, he is an aristocrat. A few years ago he came into possession, by marciage, of he came noto possession, by marriage, of $8,000 or $10,000, and with this capital went into the banking business in Pontiac, where he has a small banker's office. Since then he has set himself up as an exclusive, and kept himself entirely aloof from the "common people," who make up the rest of the com-nuity. He is supercilious, pompous and purifianced, making, applied disease of the

The Third Board of Thade Regiment.—
The organization of the Third Board of Trade, or the 12th Illinois regiment is nearly perfected, and the regiment is now ready to take the field. A dispatch has been received from the authorities at Springfield amounting that the authorities at Springfield announcing that it would be the next regiment to march from this State. It is accordingly expected that marching orders will be received this week, and the regiment will leave this city on Mon-day next, Dr. J. M. Mack, of Kunkakee, has STARBING AFFRAY.—A man named Patrick Murphy was stabled upon one of the South Water street docks, vesterday forenoon, by one Henry Ailen. Both the parties are river men, and have had a quarrel of long standing, the result of alleged improper intimacies of Murphy with Ailen's wife. Yesterday the two met upon the dock, and the quarrel was revived. Hot words easned, and during the dispute, Ailen drew a kuife and stabled Murphy in the left side, just below the heart, besides cutting him in the arm severaly. Allen immediately fled, and successfully cluded pursuit. The wounded man was taken to the North Market Felice Station and a physician summoned, who pronounced his wound, though severe, not dangerous.

The attendance being slim, only thirty forty members being present, the reading the minutes of the last meeting was dispense meeting, as he understood it, was to learn it possible the reason why the whole table of lates was not adopted by the Directors. There was something about it, the members desired to have explained. He did not know whether the Board of Trade could appeal from a conclusion or action of the Directors, but he considered that the whole schedule of raves meetically call to the "count of the Directors," practically fell to the ground if the Director nly saw fit toadopt a part. The subject wa worthy of consideration.

Mr. Charles Randolph said that he was a number of the Committee of Conference of he Board of Trade which met with the Board of Directors and made up the schedule of raice of commission. They were afterwards submitted to a full meeting of the Board of Trade, and almost unaulmously adopted by them. The Directors then as an afterthought changed the entire programme, presuming that they a half dezen members—knew better than to mire Beard what was needed for the government of the members. He thought it qui e trange action and needed explanation.

Mr. Parker, one of the Directors, was called believed the latter had not the power to rescind the action of the Committee of Confer erce and members.

The President explained that the Director

Mr. Whitney did not know that he had any-thing to say. Neither the Committee of Con-ference nor the Directors acted officially in preparing the rates. When they were prepared to take definite action it was eviden that nothing practical would grow out of it, and only those rules were adopted; which seemed to be generally foir.

Mr. R. Carter offered the following resolu-
